Knox, who had rushed to the bedside of his brother William upon hearing of the latter's serious illness. William Knox was aged 60 years, 10 months and 9 days. William W. Knox was born on the old Knox homestead, this county, and lived there until he was about twenty years old. For the past forty years, he had been residing in Wilmington. He was an agent for the Penn Mutual Insurance Company. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Elsie Gibboney; one daughter; one sister, Mrs. K. M. Horner, of Knoxlyn Mills, and one brother, J. C. Parent-Teachers' Meeting.

The Parent-Teachers' Association held its April meeting on last Friday evening in the High School building. Mrs. K. J. Grimm presided. They were entertained by the Girls' Glee Club of College and M. H. Laatsch gave a reading. The address of the evening was by Dr. H. W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg College, on the "Boy Problem," and he declared: "There is no such thing as a boy problem. The trouble is that the grown folks have lost their sense of humor. Boys were never meant to be still. The grown-ups are the problem, for the boys, if healthy, cannot be otherwise than as they are."

"The problem resolves itself into one of the grown man or woman who has grown out of sympathy with childhood. You parents may mould the boys and girls just as the glass-blower takes a handful of dirty sand, and by melting and blowing into it makes from the dirt and sand a thing of beauty. Just so, the little, ragged, dirty boy of today may become the great man of tomorrow."

"George W. Childs was at one time a poor, ragged newsboy, laughed at on all sides because of his ambition to own the newspaper he sold on the streets, the Philadelphia Public Ledger. His ideals were strong, however, and he made good his ambition."

"Boys, when people laugh at your ambitions and soul aspirations, pay no attention to them. Strive in every way to develop ideals which will make your life count for something, somewhere, to somebody."

"Three things must be put into the boy to make him grow into a true American. High ideals, the spirit of comradeship and good will must be fostered in the growing mind, and must become the make-up of every American. For Americanism is a thing acquired—it is not inherited. And there is where the school takes an equal share with the home in seeing that every boy is thrilled with a great ideal. You get out of a man only what you put into a boy, and the test of a good school is the kind of boys and girls it is giving to the world."

"Forget your 'Problem.' Remember only that the boy or girl contains the promise of God, and that the building of an American of tomorrow is the greatest and sweetest task of today."

The program committee for the October meeting consists of Miss Nellie Blocher, Mrs. C. William eBales and Mrs. J. Donald Swope. The visiting committee is composed of Mrs. Marie Ziegler, Mrs. Howard Hartzell, Mrs. Paul A. Martin, and Mrs. Frank Peckman. The nominating committee is J. P. Bigham, Mrs. Levi Diehl and Mrs. I. L. Taylor.

Voting for the banner resulted in the awards being made to L. R. Hartman's room in the High street building, Miss Bess Raffensperger at the Meade school and to the Freshman class at the High School.

The rules governing the Park in reference to the speed limit and the number of trips will be rigidly enforced this year, it is stated. Another matter to be observed by the guides and tourists, is not to break, remove or carry away any trees or shrubbery within the limits of the Park. Any guide allowing tourists to do any one of these things will be held responsible, as it is a violation of the Park rules.

Guides will be required to cover the entire field unless otherwise requested by the visitors. Any guide reported for misrepresenting the extent of the field by making short trips will be suspended.

Dan Starner Sentenced.

On last Saturday, Daniel Starner, aged 72 years, entered pleas of guilty to charges involving serious offenses with young girls. The prisoner had entered pleas of nolle contendere but same were withdrawn and pleas of guilty entered. On each of the two charges against Starner, the court sentenced him to not less than 15 nor more than 30 months' imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary, the second sentence to run from the expiration of the minimum sentence in the first count. This makes a total of not less than 2 1/2 nor more than 5 years in the penitentiary. There had been four charges against David Johnson, colored.

Harry Wisotzky, of Littlestown, charged with the illegal conversion of property for his own use, was placed on parole by Judge McPherson for a period of one year. It is said that Wisotzky sold some horses which did not belong to him and kept the money. Later, however, he made full restitution, but not before the charge had been laid against him.

"Black Snow."

Black snow to the depth of three inches fell in Brocks Gap, Va., and extending along the mountain to Lost City, W. Va., according to reports received from H. M. Carpenter, of New Oxford, who formerly resided in that section. This peculiar condition followed a regular snow storm. An analysis showed the black snow to contain pure carbon. The theory for it is that the fine carbon from the smoke of the big industrial centers was carried by the higher air currents and upon reaching that point some change occurred in the air current, causing the carbon to be precipitated with the snow.

PRIMARIES NEXT WEEK J. L. BUTT, BANKRUPTCY PERSONAL POINTS OF VIEW

TUESDAY, 22nd DAY OF APRIL, PRESENTED AN UNUSUAL LINE-UP OF ATTORNEYS.

As Date Upon Which To Do Your Duty To Your Party and Your Government.

Every declared Democrat should go to the polls and vote a Democratic Primary Ballot. There is only one candidate for the office of Judge of the Superior Court, State Treasurer and Auditor General. The Democratic candidates for each office deserve the support and vote of every Democrat. They should have the encouragement they are entitled to through the votes you can give them. This is a Presidential year and every Democratic voter should show he is in earnest to end the conditions from which the country has suffered for the past three years.

The most important party offices to be voted for are the delegates-at-large to the National Convention and the delegates from the congressional district. The Democratic party is to choose a standard bearer and the man of the very highest type of mind and character is the need of the hour. The fact whether the candidate promises to support the popular choice of the party for President amounts to very little. The kind of delegates to send are men who can be trusted to do what is right when the time arrives in convention to act. We believe that John W. Davis is the type of man the party should honor with the nomination. But the Democratic party will honor itself to head the delegation to the National Convention with John A. McSparran, recent Democratic candidate for Governor, John A. Farrell, recent Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, Gertrude S. Ely, one of the leading Democratic women in the State. Each voter can choose eight delegates from the list and with these three the voter could not go far wrong.

Every declared Democrat of Adams County should make it his and her business to go to the primary and vote for Charles B. Dougherty, for delegate to the National Convention from the 22nd congressional district. It has been 20 years since Adams County has sent a district delegate to a National Convention. This has been the fault of York County, its Democratic voters overwhelming any expression of Adams County Democrats. York County Democrats should have done the fair thing this year and have named one instead of six candidates. There are many Democrats in York County who believe that Adams County is justly entitled to one of the delegates and will support Dougherty. If all Adams County Democrats give Dougherty a practically unanimous vote Adams County may get what it should have, one of the delegates.

There will be no contest over Congress and Samuel F. Gladefelter will be re-nominated and re-elected. Daniel M. Sheely is the only name on the Democratic ballots in both Franklin Counties for 58th Senator and his nomination is assured.

There will be an interesting contest over the Assembly nomination, between Elmer B. Lau, of East Berlin, and Grover C. Myers, of Huntington township, and also over the member of the State Committee, between I. S. Brumgard, of Littlestown, and Sebastian H. Weaver, of McSherrystown.

Every Democrat should make it his or her business to name good representative County Committeemen, for the standing of your party is by the men chosen to represent it in the County Committee.

P. A. Miller Elected Trustee—The Dividend To General Creditors Will Be Small.

The financial affairs of J. L. Butt, attorney at law, have been the talk of the town for weeks, but beyond the netting of a number of judgments against him there had been no proceedings of any kind by which public record are made until Monday when the first meeting of the creditors was held in bankruptcy proceedings before Referee J. Donald Swope and an examination of the bankrupt was made.

The line-up at this meeting, which adjourned from the referee's office to the Law Library, was unusual and attracted attention.

On one side of the table was Chas. S. Butt, who, while he had been a member of the firm of Butt and Butt, sought to have situation recognized that he had withdrawn from the firm so that he could represent creditors, while the interests of the bankrupt would be looked after by John P. Butt. This position did not appeal to the referee. Not far off was J. D. Keith, who had succeeded J. L. Butt as the attorney of a banking institution several years ago, when Mr. Butt was compelled to liquidate all obligations to the institution, resulting in rather strained relations between these two attorneys.

On the other side of the table was Hon. George J. Benner, J. Lawrence Williams, Charles S. Duncan and Wm. Arch McClean, former political associates of the bankrupt, and Raymond F. Topper.

When it came to the voting the line up continued. Mr. Keith moved that three trustees be named to take over the bankrupt property. Those on the other side of the table were opposed to this and the motion was defeated.

Mr. Keith then nominated Samuel G. Spangler as trustee, while J. L. Williams nominated Pius A. Miller, and on the vote Mr. Keith supported Mr. Spangler and Charles S. Butt's vote was excluded, being of counsel for the bankrupt. Messrs. Benner, Williams, Duncan, Topper and McClean voted for P. A. Miller.

Before the trustee was named many claims had been proven to qualify the creditors to vote as to the trustee.

Harry L. Snyder had been named as one of the trustees in the bankruptcy proceedings when started before Judge Witmer at Scranton, but had refused to accept the appointment, hence P. A. Miller will be the sole trustee, whose bond was fixed at $50,000 and has since been approved. The trustee has been engaged in the taking of an appraisement and until that is completed and all claims proven it will be difficult to tell the exact financial condition of the affairs of J. L. Butt. The decree of bankruptcy sets aside all judgments entered in February and March as liens. The percentage to go to the general creditors looks as though it would be very small.

Another unusual feature of the meeting of the bankruptcy was the attitude between Referee J. Donald Swope and John D. Keith. The referee declared that he was not interested for any creditor, that while he had taken a deed for two Butt properties in town from J. L. Butt and wife to himself for Mrs. Martin, he had subsequently reconveyed to Mrs. Martin and did not represent any creditor of the bankrupt, while Mr. Keith asked questions and put objections on the record, tending to show an interest that would disqualify Mr. Swope from acting as referee.

The examination of the bankrupt occupied an hour and a half of Monday afternoon and went into the matter of his assets as scheduled and assets he was known to have had and what had become of the same, developing the fact that he had exhausted every way of raising money, by borrowing, by putting up assets as collateral and that he had reached an end.

Recent Arrests.

Sheriff John C. Shealer, Constable Charles H. Wilson, Sergeant A. F. Dalstrom and Private Alfred Hughes, of the State Police, made a raid of the place of abode of Joseph Johns, alias "Chief" Jones on Monday. As they entered the room where Johns was a pitcher which contained moonshine whiskey was knocked over. A search of Johns' home and outbuildings revealed a quart jar of moonshine liquor and a five gallon glass jug, containing about three and one-half gallons of the same kind of liquor, in a burlap sack along side one of the buildings. Jones was placed in jail in default of $1500 bail.

Sheldon Richardson, aged 19, of Iron Springs, was arrested charged with "willfully and maliciously setting fire to woodland in the South Mountain." The arrest followed an investigation by State Police and State Fire Warden as to origin of fire on Jack's Mountain on last Saturday morning, burning over 60 acres of timberland.

Joseph J. McMaster, of York, formerly of Gettysburg, who was arrested Sunday night after an automobile accident on the Bonneville road, was returned to jail, in default of $500 bail after a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace J. L. Hill. McMaster plead guilty to the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Agricultural Depression
And A Remedy.

6th Paper by John R. Kuhn.

IS THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE ACTUALLY HELPING the farmer, or is the farmer worse off now than when the department was organized in 1889?

This is the leading inquiry submitted to Secy. Wallace by John F. Sinclair, an investigator who is seeking by examination of several Departments at Washington an answer to the question "CAN YOUR TAXES BE CUT?"

Secy. Wallace felt compelled to answer in the negative and attributed the cause of depression to the War. Low prices for what the farmer must must buy, are among the causes, coupled with high taxes, high interest sell, and high prices for what he and high freight rates are responsible for the bad agricultural conditions. Low prices for wheat have sent whole states into bankruptcy.

The tragic and appalling report upon the subject is almost unbelievable. In 1923 the demand for bread was so high as to offer the consumer the equivalent of ten one pound loaves for a dollar, and the money was sub-divided as follows: the farmer, who supplied the flour, received 16 cents; the grocer 22 cents; miller, 5 cents; railroad, 3 cents; baker, 54 cents. If we translate these figures into facts we should not be surprised at whole States going bankrupt, and banks closing not by the dozens, but by the hundreds in the fifteen States affected, and one million farmers leaving the farms for the city, and the large increase in suicides.

These facts are only the outward evidence of an appalling situation which demands immediate, heroic and vigorous action on the part of the Government.

The Secretary is perplexed at prevailing conditions of affairs but has no remedy to suggest.

President Coolidge is deeply concerned, and in his Lincoln Dinner Address over the radio, admonished the people how deeply interested they all should be, because of depression of agricultural interests, and the overcrowding of cities. Despite all his efforts, however, to discover and recommend a remedy, he has nothing adequate to offer.

In this emergency, the P. D. F. Plan is offered. Arguments in its favor have been published and will now be submitted to officials and legislators. It is merely a plan, an idea: a suggestion to be enlarged upon. It applies only to two productions, wheat and cotton, but is not restricted in its benefits to the producers of them, for they will extend over the whole country.

Briefly stated, the Plan is as follows:—

PREVAIL UPON CONGRESS for legislation along the line of the Grain Futures Act—whereby the Government shall guarantee to producers of Wheat the minimum price of three and a half cents per bushel ($2.10 per bushel); and to producers of Cotton the minimum price of fifteen cents per pound ($75 per bale); to be paid directly to the producers, upon delivery of the product at any "contract market."

Explanation of the terms "Grain Futures Act" and "contract market" will now be given, but before they be stated—is this surprising declaration—that nothing can be done by Congress, or otherwise, to relieve the degradation of agriculturists in the U. S., until the importation of wheat from Canada be suppressed.

There is no occasion or excuse for the importation of any wheat from Canada; nor is the Canadian farmer favored by the practice. The ample facilities for transportation of its surplus of 350 million bushels to foreign markets thus stated by one of our officials—"Canada's Grain Trade is organized on an export basis. The Canadian exportation system enables the wheat originating in Western Canada to flow eastward in an almost straight line through the central market of Winnipeg and on to Fort William and Port Arthur at the head of Lake Superior. From the Lake front the Canadian grain is carried by American lake-boats to American ports. From these eastern lake-ports, the movement is to sea-board by rail, or through the Welland Canal and the St. Lawrence River to Montreal. The Canadian grain moving through the United States is carried in bond. Canada is well supplied with both country and terminal elevator facilities. There are more than 1500 country shipping stations in the three Prairie Provinces, with a total of over 4000 elevators. The average capacity of these elevators is about 30,000 bushels. Fort William-Port Arthur contains the largest and finest elevator equipment of any port in the world. The 25 terminal elevators there have a storage capacity of 62,600,000 bushels, and are equipped to load 7750,000 bushels aboard ship in a 10-hour day. During the busy season from September 15 to December 15, grain moves through Winnipeg to the lake front at the rate of from 1000 to 2500 cars a day. At times trains of cars loaded with wheat leave Winnipeg at 20-minute intervals."

We area—therefore—giving no offense to the people or government of Canada by prohibiting importation of any grain from that country; and the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Law absolutely rules it out, unless, as proclaimed by President Coolidge, March 7, 1924, the duty of 42 cents per bushel on wheat, and $1.04 per hundred pounds upon flour, be imposed, paid and exacted.

The violation of this Law is the cause of our troubles; and the remedy is to increase the duty to $1.68 per bushel upon wheat and correspondingly upon flour, and collect it—allowing no wheat to be imported "in bond."

This being affected, and our new Attorney-General and his reliable District Attorneys and their assistants being impressed with their duty to enforce the law and protect our people from "boot-legging" in wheat and flour, the proposition to relieve our farmers from the burden now imposed upon them may be considered.

The Grain Futures Act, approved by President Harding September 21, 1922, and by the U. S. Supreme Court April 15, 1923, places all dealers in grain for interstate commerce under certain regulations and restrictions, to be supervised by the Secretary of Agriculture; and every one authorized to transact such business is designated a "contract market."

Because the Executive Branch of our Government has been unable to compel the Grain Trust, which exercises a monopoly in the grain trade of the whole country, including all importations from Canada, to obey the law is the real cause of the depression of our agriculturists; and because this depression has continued through the year 1923, only one dollar per bushel has been allowed our wheat farmers for 500 million bushels supplied by them for domestic use of our people at the actual cost of two dollars per bushel, they have—in this one year—suffered a loss of 500 million dollars.

It is now desired to cut off the importation of wheat from Canada, and guarantee the minimum price of $2.10 per bushel to be paid directly to the producers, upon its delivery at any market. More "contract markets" may be created, wherever needed, and licensed by the Secretary of Agriculture; all being placed under bonds—to obey the law—and among other things to keep proper accounts of their transactions.

The money requisite to maintain guarantee of the minimum price may be supplied through the Secretary of Agriculture, as now provided by Section 12 of the Grain Futures Act from the U. S. Treasury, and through local National Banks to the several government agencies. An immense fund will not be necessary; for the value of the commodity itself will be ample; and the demand of the people for bread continues.

Now will this regulation be severe upon the Grain Speculators, who may continue their speculations, within the law, or otherwise; the only difference being the guarantee of the Government that the minimum price shall be fixed and maintained; and our citizens assured of the Government's protection.

The same legislation is desirable and necessary to protect the planters and their assistants in the Southern States in the production and marketing of cotton, and at the same time, stabilize the market so that an adequate supply for the world shall be available at fair and reasonable rates, from ten to fifteen cents per pound. At present—by reason of conspiracy in restraint of production—the price has been advanced to 25, 30, 35, and even 40 cents per pound. With a proper, minimum price guaranteed, directly payable to the producer, whether of one bale, or a hundred bales, stability of a home and means of livelihood will be accorded the distressed colored people of the South; who, no less than the farmers, deserve and require this protection.

The Department of Agriculture may readily expand itself to supervise this additional business; and the blessing which will follow the return of prosperity to agricultural regions will be shared by all the people.

Everyman-With-a-Cow Meeting.

Adams County farmers will be offered an opportunity to have their cattle tested under the Modified Accredited Area plan of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture Bureau of Animal Industry.

The purpose of this work is to establish and maintain tuberculosis free herds of cattle, thereby placing them on an economic basis.

Tuberculosis of cattle is important in two ways:

1. It is of economic importance in relation to the live stock industry.
 2. It is of hygienic importance in relation to the transmission of disease to consumers of meat and milk.
- We recognize several ways in which tuberculosis works to the financial injury of owners of live stock:
1. By destroying animals outright, as when tuberculosis is allowed to reach its full development and kill its victims.
 2. By reducing the market value of the animal in those cases in which the animals are sold before the disease has reached a such a stage as to render it entirely unmarketable.
 3. By reducing the breeding value of a herd and its general productivity.
 4. By causing a waste of cattle food through feeding it to animals that cannot give adequate return.
 5. By infecting other animals,

BIG FARMER'S MEETING

TO CONSIDER ERADICATING TUBERCULOSIS IN CATTLE.

The Local Bureau Asks For a Crowded Court House Next Tuesday Evening.

Dr. Bruner, Assistant Director of the Bureau of Animal Industry will be here to explain the Modified Accredited Area tuberculosis test plan Tuesday evening, April 22nd. It is hoped that every dairyman. The Chamber of Commerce and all those interested in eradicating tuberculosis be at this meeting in the Court House on the 22nd. The Chambers of Commerce are back of the move heart and soul from the public health point.

County Agent Underwood says that this is by far the most important piece of work that has come before the farmers of Adams County and other co-operating agencies. An area is ready for test when 90% of the herd owners in that Township or Townships have signed up to have their cattle tested. These areas will be tested in the rotation in which they are turned in to the State Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, Harrisburg, and funds are forthcoming from co-operating agencies within the County to pay for tags, disinfecting material, disinfecters salary and expenses.

If after the explanation by Dr. Bruner of the Tuberculin test plan it meets with the approval of the farmers committees will be appointed and a general committee formed who should appoint a chairman in each school district who in turn may appoint as many co-workers as he desires.

Let us see a crowded Court House Tuesday evening, April 22nd.

swine, calves, grown cattle, through the milk or by contact.

6. By injuring the reputation of a herd, thereby rendering it difficult to dispose of the animals or their products.

7. By destroying the enthusiasm or interest of the breeder in the maintenance of his herd at a high standard.

Tuberculosis can be and is transmitted from animal to man through the consumption of infected milk and meat. Medical authorities estimate that 25% of tuberculosis in man can be charged to the tuberculous cow if milk is made safe, in lieu of the tuberculin test, by pasteurization it is not practical nor economically sound for each producer to install a pasteurizing plant on the farm. It must be borne in mind that the agricultural population constitutes a large part of the consuming public and the farmer is interested in his own health and that of his family even more than he is concerned with the health of his live stock.

Ten reasons why every farmer should sign up for tuberculin test now:

1. If the summary covering the entire County shows at least 90% of the cattle owners in each township have signified their willingness to have their cattle tested on an area basis, the actual testing will be conducted when funds for indemnity purposes are available.
2. The test is free of cost now. It may not be a year from now. The amount of indemnity per animal will likely be reduced before 1925.
3. The most that can be secured now from both Federal and State sources for a grade animal is $65 and for registered animal $120, in addition to this amount, the owner receives the proceeds from the sale of the carcass, hide and offal providing it passes inspection.
4. 85% of the reactors pass inspection.
5. The state would never get all the cattle tested under the individual plan due to loss of time and effort as well as expense.
6. Each animal in the herd will have an increased value of from $10 to $15 if found free from the disease.
7. One diseased animal will pollute the entire herd in a short time.
8. Diseased animals cannot develop or produce milk profit.
9. The State Board of health ruling is likely to be enforced at any time.
10. 25% of all human tuberculosis is traced back to the animal disease. You cannot afford not to test for this reason alone.

Health Talk—Water Supply.

The health talk of the Pennsylvania Department of Health is prepared this week by H. E. Moses, Assistant Chief Engineer, of the State Health Department. Mr. Moses says:

"Wells and springs are the natural water supplies for thousands of people. Too often they are unsafely located or inadequately protected against contamination."

"The shallow dug well is more liable to contamination than the deeper driven or drilled type. In general, a well should be placed as far as possible from sources of pollution such as privies, cesspools, sewers and barn yards and also above them."

"Keep the surface drainage out. The cover should be tight, preferably concrete, as a plank covering is seldom water tight. Make it higher in the center and sloping to the sides. Provide a trough for waste water. Extend the walls or casings above the ground surface. The walls should be water tight for 7 feet below. Don't use a nail and rope, but provide a good pump, bolted tightly to the well cover or casing."

"A spring used as a source of water supply should be surrounded with water tight masonry walls, provided with a roof, equipped with a trap door which should be kept locked. Water should never be taken from a spring with any dipping utensil, but should always be obtained from an overflow pipe inserted in the wall for that purpose, or by means of a pump. A drainage ditch should be dug on the upper side of the spring to intercept and divert surface water."

READING AND STRABAN TOWNSHIPS

Will Ask State Aid Road As Way To Get Out Of Real Mud.

Petitions are being circulated in Reading and Straban townships for State aid road as the only way for these districts to get away from real mud. The road for which aid is sought is the portion of road in Reading township from Centre Square in Hampton to the Conewago Creek on way to New Chester and in Straban township for the road from the creek through New Chester to the hard road east of Hunterstown.

New Chester is to be distinguished from all other rural communities in the fact that it is several miles from a hard road. In no direction can people in this section find, either a state road or an old pike without traveling for several miles through mud and a hard road through this section would be of incalculable benefit. Along this road there are two mills at New Chester, two schools and two churches, and it is a well settled region of the county and it is mud, mud, mud, for any one to go to church, school, mill, store or for any other need at both ends of road or from any road crossing this main thoroughfare. The New Chester Lutheran church is having difficulty to secure a pastor due to the impassable roads. There is perhaps no other section in the county where the building of a good state aid road would take the inhabitants out of the mud and put the section on the map as this road would do.

Adams County Hens in Egg Laying Contest.

In an egg laying contest between 6 flocks of different kinds of chickens, being conducted by State College, two flocks of chickens in Adams County are among the five highest flocks of over 100 hens and pullets up to the first of March. The flock of J. Willis Weigle, of Gardners, stands third and the flock of Chas. M. Weikert, Littlestown, is fourth. In the former's flock there are 650 White Leghorns and during the month of February each chicken laid an average of 15.8 eggs. Since the first of January, when the contest began, the flock of Mr. Weigle laid an average of 38.8 eggs per bird. Mr. Weikert's chickens are Black Minorcas. He had 212 of them at the beginning of the contest, and now has 206, which has left him an average flock of 208. In February each hen laid an average of 15.3 and during the month of March their average was 23.08. During March his flock laid a total of 5,804 eggs.

Thought He Had Wrong License.

Squire S. S. W. Hammers, of Hammers Hall, procured a fishing license early in the season in order to be prepared for the first catch. Last week he ventured along the banks of Marsh Creek and after patiently angling for several hours returned home without even so much as a nibble. The Squire, thinking that surely he must have gotten the wrong sort of license, started out the following day for town to see about having his license exchanged, but the lure of the stream was too much for him and he stopped for a few minutes and cast his line again. In less time than it takes to tell it, he had landed three suckers, 16, 18 and 20 inches long, so he returned home, having decided that Adams County fishing licenses are not so bad after all, but convinced that some fish are just plain contrary.

HAVE YOU A BAD BACK?
Then the Advice of This Gettysburg Resident Will Interest You.

Does your back ache night and day? Hinder work; destroy your rest. Are you tortured with stabbing pains? When you stoop, lift or bend? Then likely your kidneys are weak. Then troubles may soon appear. Headaches, dizziness, nervousness. Or uric acid and its ills. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Dona's Pills. Read this Gettysburg testimony:

Charles Rostensteel, prop. blacksmith shop, 315 S. Washington St., says: "My kidneys were sore and at times they felt like lumps of lead pressing against me. Darting pains bothered me when I bent over. My back was often stiff and lame, but the main trouble was my kidneys. The kidney secretions were filled with a heavy sediment and were scanty in passage. I used Dona's Pills and was fixed up in a first-class way."

Grover C. Myers of Tyrone Township

Asks the nomination for the Assembly, as many of his predecessors have been given a second term. Mr. Myers made a good representative in the last Legislature, with a record highly creditable to himself and to his County. There is usually only one session of the Legislature in a member's term and much of his time is devoted to getting acquainted with his position and duties, how things are done, and about the time he begins to feel at home in his job and that he can do something adjournment comes. A second term to one who has had a previous term presents an opportunity to accomplish something far more worth while for his county than can be done in a first term, and Mr. Myers desires to do this for his county. Vote for Grover C. Myers for Assembly.

VOTE FOR

Chas. B. Dougherty

FOR

Delegate to National Convention

FROM 22nd CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Charles B. Dougherty is distinctly an Adams County type. He was born in Tyrone township in 1867 and came to Gettysburg when a boy and began his successful business career as a clerk in the Dry Goods Store of G. W. Spangler, on the Square. He was elected County Treasurer, serving with great credit to himself. He has been the manager of the Gettysburg Ice and Storage Company since 1907, and the success of that plant has been due to his management. He has served as a member of the Town Council of Gettysburg for 10 years and has always been active to advance the welfare of the borough. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and of St. James Lutheran Church.

Adams County Democrats who want their county to be represented at the next Democratic National Convention will vote for C. B. Dougherty.

Elmer B. Lau

East Berlin's Democratic Candidate
For The Nomination of

Assemblyman

At The Coming Primaries,
April 22, 1924.

ELMER B. LAU, at present a candidate for the nomination of Assembly in the Adams district, is a good representative citizen and business man.

The greater part of his life has been spent on the farm and his hard and practical teachings have given him a certain desirable quality of character and a distinct and direct knowledge of the needs and wants of a district like Adams. These facts, coupled with his sterling honesty, well fit him for the office he now seeks.

While born and raised in Washington township, York County, near East Berlin, about ten years ago he purchased a farm in Reading township and crossed the line into Adams.

About this time, in partnership with Edward Reynolds, he established a mercantile business in East Berlin, the firm being known as Lau & Reynolds. He maintained his residence on the farm, however, until three years ago, when he took up his abode in East Berlin. The business has grown until it now ranks as the largest institution of the kind in the town, with a large patronage from the general public.

His efforts in a business way are not confined to the mercantile line alone, being one of the members of The Adams Transit Company, The Service Shoe Company and a prominent factor in the affairs of East Berlin, constantly being called upon by his fellow citizens to accept borough office, at the present time being a member of the Town Council.

His party will make no mistake in selecting him as their standard bearer and candidate for State Assembly.

Economies

In order to cut the high costs of new telephone equipment we have introduced many labor-saving devices. In every department of our business there are new machines, new practices, improved methods—all introduced to keep telephone rates down.

Were it not for the improvements in the telephone art in the past few years we would have been forced to come to you—the people of Pennsylvania—for increased rates a year or two ago.

We have now reached the point where further economies will impair the service itself—a thing which you would not sanction, and which we could not allow.

When we reach this point—where every possible economy has been introduced in our business, and in spite of this our revenues are inadequate to meet the needs of a sound business, there is only one thing left for us—we must come to you and state the facts.

For you have the same interest in the service that we have.

A strong, well-conducted, efficient telephone system is an asset to the community. We ask only for rates which will enable this company to continue as an asset to the business and social welfare of the State.
